

Rules of Law On-Demand

Nymity LawTables™ is a sophisticated, web-based solution that generates powerful Rules tables, maps, and lists based on the legal requirements for over 550 privacy laws and regulations. Unprecedented anywhere in the world, Nymity LawTables™ is built upon years of research, compiled in the underlying compliance Rules library conducted by Nymity's team of privacy and data protection experts. Rules of Law in Nymity LawTables™ are updated daily empowering the privacy office to leverage readily available legal research to support cross-jurisdictional initiatives and compliance.

Rules of Law that Require Evidence to Demonstrate Compliance

The screenshot shows the Nymity LawTables interface. On the left, there are filters for 'Regions' and 'Country'. The 'Country' filter is expanded, showing a list of countries with the number of rules for each: Canada (169), United States (161), Spain (28), Japan (22), Peru (21), Australia (20), Italy (17), Tunisia (7), Germany (5), Russia (4), and People's Republic of C... (2). Below this is a search bar for 'Rule Sources' with a list of various privacy laws like 'Privacy - Federal (PIP...)', 'Data Protection - Spal...', etc. The main area displays a world map titled 'LawTables' with a legend for 'Evidence Required: Maintain Procedures for Inquiries and Complaints'. A 'Number of rules' slider is visible below the map. On the right, there is a sidebar with categories like 'Business Activities', 'Privacy Principles', 'GAPP', 'Employee/Customer', and 'Evidence Required'. The 'Evidence Required' section is expanded, showing a list of rules with counts, such as 'Embed Data Priv...' (+1,067), 'Maintain Data Priv...' (+462), and 'Maintain Procedures...' (456). At the bottom, there are 'Export to PDF' and 'Export to Word' buttons.

FEATURES

Customized Rules Tables

Generate and download specific Rules tables, for example, consent Rules for multiple laws. Nymity LawTables™ allows for easy identification of laws with consent requirements and the quick creation of a table of Rules for the laws of interest.

Customizable Compliance Heat Maps

Generate and download compliance heat maps for presentations and reporting. Select a criterion, for example, outsourcing, and generate a compliance heat map of the countries with privacy laws that restrict an organization from outsourcing the processing of personal data.

Online Investigation of Rules of Law

Prior to generating a Rules table, investigate the Rules dynamically using expert filters. For example, investigate cross-border transfer Rules in Spain, Italy, France, and Germany.

Instant Drill Down Reports to Rules of Law

At any time, view the actual text of the Rule, in English. If desired, easily send a copy of the Rule to other stakeholders in the organization. For example, send the Rule for employee monitoring in Germany to the HR department.

Complete Global Coverage

With over 550 privacy and data protection laws, regulations, and codes, Nymity strives to meet 100% coverage. For example, in the USA alone there are a total of 4,969 Rules (as of March 30, 2015).

Rules Tables based on Multiple Criteria

Create Rules tables based on a wide variety of criteria, including Business Activities (e.g. Privacy Impact Assessments, Employee Monitoring), Privacy Principles (e.g. Consent), Countries (e.g. Mexico), Data Type (e.g. Customer), and others.

Rules Required to Demonstrate Compliance

Another first, Nymity LawTables™ identifies which Rules of Law require evidence to demonstrate compliance. For example, there are 7 laws with a total of 8 Rules in Asia Pacific that have Rules for training employees, the most in any region of the world.

Customization for Your Countries

Configure Nymity LawTables™ to automatically focus on applicable countries. For example, if you are responsible for Asia-Pacific you can set up your law tables to reflect the countries in Asia Pacific where your organization operates, or set it up to exclude results from countries in which it does not.

Precedents On-Demand

All Rules link to relevant case law and regulator decisions to provide guidance on compliance expectations from authorities.
